Good morning:

I have received your letter dated June 15, 2017. At this time, Idaho does not have specific language within the Idaho Food Code that requires footwear while inside a business. However, as you note in your original letter to me, a business does, of course, have the right to establish its own policy regarding the wearing of footwear.

Sincerely,

Patrick L. Guzzle
Food Protection Program Manager
Idaho Division of Public Health
